

I'm going to visit the Meadows Museum.

I will have fun looking at art with my friends and family.

When we arrive at the museum, we will park in the parking garage.

We will walk up the stairs or use the elevator in the garage to get to the museum's entrance.

There are lots of sculptures on the museum's plaza.

I can look closely, but I will not touch or climb on them.

When we enter the museum, we may have to wait in line to get tickets.

I should check in with the Visitor Services Desk to ask if there are any fun family materials available for the day.

I can also get a map of the museum that shows me where the restrooms and galleries are located.

Large bags, backpacks, and other bulky items cannot be taken into the galleries.

It is best if we leave them at home,

but there are some unmonitored cubbies available for temporary storage.

When I'm at the museum,
I will see some people wearing masks,
and I may see some without.

To get to the galleries, we can take the stairs or the elevator.

If I take the elevator, I may have to wait, and it may be crowded inside, but it will only take a minute.

In the galleries, I can look at artwork and share my ideas about it.

I can take pictures of some of the artwork too.

I just need to make sure there is not a no photography sign near the label.

If I am not sure, I can ask a security guard.

When I take pictures, I need to make sure my flash is turned off.

I may see signs with symbols and information about the museum's mobile guide.

I can use a smartphone to scan the code and learn more about the art.

I can also call the phone number to learn more.

There are some special rules we need to follow when we visit the galleries:

1. I cannot touch the art, frames, or pedestal stands.
2. I cannot lean on the walls.
3. I cannot have food, drinks, or gum in the galleries.
4. I will stay with my class.
5. I will use my inside voice and walking feet.

When we finish visiting the museum, we will return to our car to leave.

I can come back again with my family and friends to see more art.
